

A Mother's Day Bouquet

Jewels and flowers aren't so different. Explosions of color and shape, they speak through our senses and straight to our souls. They remind us how beautiful the world can be. Spring reminds us too. Mother Earth wakes up. Flowers fill the fields. Color returns to the world, and on the second Sunday of May, we celebrate mothers, the givers of life.

So consider this lookbook a sort of mother's day bouquet. Arranged with mothers in mind, it presents new trends, classic styles, bestsellers, and popular mother's day favorites.
