

See How 2019 Stuller Events Will Revitalize Your Business

You unlock the door to your business, turn on the lights, and make the coffee. You organize the cases. You make repairs. You sell your creations. You take out the trash. You close the books. The list goes on and on as you think to yourself, “Man, owning a small business is a ton of work.”

Yet, your small business has its perks. You’re the boss, after all. You get to take vacation whenever you want (in theory, anyway). You choose the inventory you want to sell and incorporate your own philosophies into the business.

So when’s the last time you spent some time away? How often do you afford yourself the space to rethink and re-energize your business?

Explore 2019 Stuller Events

All of the greats know the value of going on a retreat. From religious figures to sports teams, motivated professionals value the importance of taking time away from their business to make the business better.

Retreat to spaces that encourage you to examine your operations from the outside looking in. Share the experience with your staff to create a united front for change as you lead the way to a more efficient workforce. As 2019 is fast underway, visit Stuller headquarters in Lafayette, Louisiana, to learn new concepts, network with peers, and better your business. Or, catch us on the road at various tradeshows around the country.

Here is your guide to 2019 Stuller events held around the country

At Stuller

Bridge

Bridge is a three-day conference focused on innovative business solutions for the independent jeweler. The conference covers topics including how to make better sales, improving productivity at the bench, reaching millennial customers, and more. If you come to Bridge, we'll pay for your stay and meals (and you'll love our Cajun cuisine). Reserve your spot today!

Find more details here.

Bench Jeweler Workshop

If you are a bench jeweler or would like to learn better techniques on how to cast, set stones, polish, and interact with other industry experts, then our Bench Jeweler Workshop is for you. Bench jewelers love this action-packed event filled with tools and techniques from industry pros and Stuller experts. It's not too late to register for Battle of the Benches – an action-packed design competition where four jewelers compete for bench jeweler glory. Details here.

Training Opportunities Abound

Stuller stands committed to helping independent jewelers by offering a wide variety of training to help you get the job done. Below are the training classes we offer:

- CounterSketch® Training
- Matrix® Training
- MatrixGold™ Training
- RhinoGold Training
- Basic Laser Welding
- Stone Setting Training

On the Road

Trade Shows

Stuller will attend several trade shows around the country this year. Find the complete list of locations here.

Whether or not attending Stuller events is in your cards, retreating is imperative to your business' success. We hope to see you here in Lafayette or on the road. For the most updated information on Stuller events visit stuller.com/events.