

Create Something Unique with Custom Laser Cut Designs

With hundreds of different jewelry store options, setting yourself apart from the rest can make or break even the most successful jewelry business. Offering new products matters and it's important if you want to be the go-to jeweler in your community.

This is especially true when it comes to smaller mom-and-pop stores or online only businesses. Stuller understands and has worked to implement technology to help.

Our in-house Custom Laser Cut Designs and engraving technology gives you the highest quality in laser cutting. This quick and precise service allows you to have the creativity to design a line of custom jewelry unique to your store and offer a personalized touch. With more than 250 metal and gage combinations of Stuller's SCS-certified 100% recycled metals, the options of creativity are endless while taking the stress of manufacturing off your shoulders.

Our technology can help shape your vision into a reality. Whether it's to monogram a pendant, design a custom piece to honor a loved one, or even a one-of-a-kind creation that no other person can replicate. We can custom cut your design out of our metal sheets. We stock multiple gauge sizes that are available in various metal qualities. We will even send off the pieces unpolished, allowing you to create the exact finish that any of your customers want. In addition, since there is no minimum on order requirements in gold or platinum, you can get your products with ease and on time.

Having your custom laser designs created is simple when you let Stuller do all of the heavy lifting for you. The process is easy:

- Submit your designs through email.
- Once your design is verified, we will send a quote to you within 2-3 business days.
- After approval of the quote, a specific item number will be assigned to your design for easier ordering in the future.
- Once the item number is created, you may begin placing orders.

Our collections are so extensive that you can even shop our stash of pre-merchandised stampings to use, cutting your design process in half. In addition, our team is happy to walk you through setup and pricings; that way, you can reorder that same design as many times as you want whenever you're established in our system.

Using Stuller's Custom Laser Cut Designs technology is a no-brainer when it comes to creating unique pieces for your store. Let us help you set yourself apart from your competition and design a meaningful, personalized, and unforgettable items for your customers. The opportunities are endless. What will you create?
